

Student/Young Professional Resident Application

Mission Statement

Friendship House Fayetteville works alongside young adults with intellectual and developmental disabilities and their families to provide intentional, transitional living. At its core, this faith-based community is rooted in table fellowship expressed through a daily rhythm of eating, praying, and celebrating together.

Friendship House Fayetteville Model

The concept of Friendship House was first established in Holland, Michigan on the campus of Western Theological Seminary. ServiceSource North Carolina, in partnership with several community stakeholders, replicated this unique model to establish Friendship House in Fayetteville, North Carolina—the fifth Friendship House in the world! This specialized faith-based model calls all residents into a life of communal interdependence and an atmosphere of belonging.

Each of the three homes will have two apartment suites. In each suite, three college students/young professionals live with one “friend resident.” Friend residents are young adults with intellectual and developmental disabilities (I/DD), such as Down Syndrome or Autism. As a gateway to independent living, friend residents are expected to maintain part-time jobs and/or be actively engaged in job development services and be able to take care of themselves. Students and young professionals live as housemates and friends, setting positive examples and help foster the independence of friend residents.

Student/Young Professional Resident Admission Requirements Role & Expectations

The core members of Friendship House are the Friend Residents. Young adults with intellectual/developmental disabilities who, with the support of their families, housemates, and rehabilitation staff are prepared to maintain or seek a part-time job or significant volunteer opportunities in the community, care for themselves, be a friend to housemates, participate in the community life of Friendship House as best they can, and try to develop their independent living skills. Students and young professional residents serve as friends, mentors, and roommates sharing life together.

Code of Ethics & Apartment Rules

1. ESTABLISHING BOUNDARIES: (What household items are to be shared by all)
Examples:
 - Cleaning items
 - Furniture
 - Pots, pans, kitchen items, etc.
 - Television (common living area)
 - Personal property is off limits to housemates: (unless person offers, or permission was given).
 - Friends/family are allowed to spend the night occasionally.
 - Overnight guests are not encouraged. Housemates are asked to notify fellow housemates and Resident Director of overnight guests. Guests are not permitted to spend the night, move belongings in, disrupt the rhythm of the community, etc. as they do not pay the rent and must respect the experience of, and have sensitivity towards, Friend Residents consecutively and excessively. If this happens, Resident Director and ServiceSource will discuss and address the situation properly according to lease agreement.
 - Personal belongings should stay in the bedroom and not infiltrate the rest of the house.
 - Housemates may not help themselves to other housemate's food, drinks, personal items, etc.
 - All housemates need to clean up behind themselves if they make a mess or take a shower, etc. Housemates should not be expected to clean up after other housemate's guest(s).
2. If all housemates are planning meals together, then all housemates should split grocery expenses for those meals or for shared items such as eggs, milk, condiments and bread. (This works well to eliminate waste and reduce using up treasured real estate in the refrigerator).
3. Do not go into housemate's room for any reason unless housemate asks you to do so.
4. It is suggested to keep your bedroom door closed when you are not at home. This makes it easier for your housemates when guests are over, so they don't have to worry about them going into your room.

5. This keeps boundaries established that your room is not a free for all.
6. Clean up after yourself in shared spaces. (bathroom, kitchen/appliances, den, etc.)
7. Designate and agree upon chores and responsibilities among apartments housemates.
8. Respect each other's privacy and establish guidelines for quiet hours etc. (adhering to the city noise ordinance)
9. Tell your housemate where you are going and when to expect you back or leave a note. This is just to be courteous. Make sure you exchange phone numbers with your roommates and hang emergency numbers on the refrigerator.
Residents/Housemates are welcome to travel home, out of town, etc.
10. Alcohol is permitted but must be used in a respectful manner and not excessively. It must not be left in the kitchen or communal living space for others to have access. Alcohol consumption is NOT allowed for anyone under 21 years of age. Friend Residents of age are not permitted to consume alcohol without the permission of their guardian. If alcohol becomes used in a manner of which the other housemates, Resident Director or ServiceSource staff do not feel comfortable with, could lead to a ban on alcohol within the apartment. Any code of ethics violation, disrespect or boundaries broken may result in being removed from Friendship House.
11. Pets are NOT permitted (exceptions to the NC ADA Service Animal Law)
12. Firearms and any form of weapons (all guns, knives and possible items that may cause harm) are NOT permitted by housemates or guests.
13. Remember to be honest, respectful, and responsible. Have the desire to maximize independent living skills, social skills, and participation in the rhythm of the Friendship House Fayetteville community.
14. No illegal drugs or drug use will be tolerated.

I hereby acknowledge and agree to the roles, expectations and code of ethics stated for Student/Young Professional Residents at Friendship House Fayetteville. As a Student/Young Professional Resident I am responsible for adhering to the stated requirements and I understand breach of these requirements will result in disciplinary action including potential removal from Friendship House Fayetteville.
